

A Liberal Proposition

My sympathies have been touched by the frequent appeals for help in the various interests of the brotherhood, and I long to contribute to each and all of them, if only I had the means to do so. And I might give my mite but for the debt incurred in the publication of the History of the Tunkers. But I'll tell you what I can and will do:

I'll give the proceeds less cost of sending of the first books sold in response to this proposition, to the following auxiliaries to the Brethren church:

To the General Missionary Committee, one book either style binding.

To the Chicago church Building Fund, one book either style binding.

To the Chicago Mission, one book either style binding.

To the Washington City Mission, one book either style binding.

To the Dayton City Mission, one book either style binding.

To the Ashland College Theological Fund, one book either style binding.

To the Ashland College Insurance Fund, one book either style binding.

To the saving of the suffering of India, two books either style binding.

For every book sold in addition to the one donated I will give one dollar to the cause in the interest of which it was purchased.

Books will be sent either by express or mail, on receipt of retail price; $3.00 for cloth binding, or $3.50 for full sheep. Be careful to designate to which purpose you wish to have your book credited and whether to send by mail or express, and in case of the latter fail not to give the county also. Lately I had an order to be sent to Middletown, Ohio. By reference to the State Directory it was discovered that there are just ten Middletowns in the State of Ohio, all in different counties, but only one postoffice of the same name.

Married

RALSTON—JONES.—At Warsaw, Ind., June 18, 1902. Mr. Lewis W. Ralston and Mrs. Margaret Jones by the writer. Brother Ralston has been the faithful sexton of the Brethren church at this place for seven years. Both parties have been bereaved of former companions. They have the best wishes of many friends in their new life.

C. F. YODER

WOLLAM—BLUE.—At the home of the bride's parents, six miles northwest of South Haven, Kansas, on May 18. Mr. A. W. Wollam of Perth, Kansas and Miss Mary Blue; ceremony by the writer in the presence of a few relatives. After the ceremony all heartily responded to an invitation by partaking of a bountiful feast. The bride is a daughter of brother J. P. Blue. Notwithstanding the continuous rainfall the occasion was a pleasant and cheerful one, and the young couple start out in life with bright prospects and the best wishes of their many friends. May those wishes become life's real experiences to them.

L. G. WOOD.

LAWRENCE—ROGERS—By the writer at Wilcox, Wis., June 12, 1902, at the residence of the bride, Mr. Burton H. Lawrence and Mrs. Olive Van Buren Rogers.

T. D. VAN BUREN.

BEGIN YOUR PREPARATIONS NOW!

We want 200 or more of the young men and the young women of the church to come to Ashland next September.

In this great, forceful, wisdom-loving century, you cannot afford to be even comparatively ignorant. It costs too much. It is an unspeakable loss to you and a sin against all of us.

If you care to fill an important position, if you care to appropriate what the world puts within your reach, if you care to know how to read a great poem, to hear a symphony, to write literature, to stand on your feet and think, to do your duty or any work in the best and happiest way, you need college training.

Come to Ashland next September and prepare to live. The time is only three months hence. Lay your plans now. "Find a way or make one." The commencement number of our college paper "Purple and Gold" is yours for the asking. Address,

Ashland College, Ashland, Ohio.
